*impossible thing
you are a part of me
improbable dream
you hold the moonlit key abandon the scales
embrace the synthesis
surrender your tales
you can be limitless*

focus in the higher planes must be built, but also operates as a gift bestowed piece by piece. test those who would guide. seek out love with the pure whiteness of fresh snow, and then give yourself over completely in the total trust that true lovers share.

so i merge with an ocean of light

*arational being hidden just underneath
peel back off the screens fractal eternity
vibrational forms
cascading rainbow rays
the veil is torn become the dawning day*

mesmerizing depth of detail - the oceans of the akashic layers require a steadiness of mind that arises like a lotus from the still mud of the properly prepared earthen body of clay. passing further still, angelic prisms of form repeated and refracted until the inner light emerges, opening briatic planes that unfold with jaw-dropping sighs of purring release.
